JUMPED TO HIS DEATH.

Foolhardy Act of Patrick King Callahan, Bridge Jumper.

A PLUNGE OF TWO HUNDRED FEET.

Suffered a Laceration Which Was Sewed Up by Surgeons, and Lingered in Terrible Agony for Several Hours—Thirty People Witnessed the Feat.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Patrick King Callahan, 25 years old, who lived in New York, jumped from the top of the Poughkeepsie bridge into the river yesterday. The distance is 212 feet. At least thirty people saw Callahan's exhibition of nerve. The bridge jumper was seriously injured, and may pay for the dare-devil experiment with his life. After the jump he came to the surface moaning as if in great pain, and struck out for one of the boats in waiting, the occupants of which picked him up and took him ashore. During the day Callahan failed rapidly, and Drs. Marill and Sheedy were called. They found him suffering from hemorrhages, caused by a serious laceration of the perineum, extending into the bowels. They gave him hypodermic injections and sewed up the wound. Callahan, who had been taken to Boyd's hotel, lingered in great agony until 11:25 last night, when death came to his relief.

Callahan and his backers, John E. Eckhert and William Lloyd, of New York, accompanied by a dozen sporting men and reporters, arrived at Highland on a morning train, and were met by several Poughkeepsie sports, the representative of the Associated Press and other newspaper men. Callahan, accompanied by four of his party, climbed up the mountainside to the entrance of the bridge, where they eluded the watchman by telling him that they belonged to a party of painters who are engaged in painting the bridge.

They passed out to a point within 175 feet of the west shore, where Callahan prepared to jump. He wore a pair of black trousers and a navy blue woolen shirt over a suit of ordinary underclothing and wore heavy leather shoes. His associates strapped a cork jacket or life preserver around his waist and attached an inflated beef bladder to each of his shoulders. These were calculated to keep him erect in falling. Without a sign of fear Callahan clamored over the railing and hung from the edge of the footpath by his hands. As he neared the water his legs separated and he struck with a noise that sounded like the report of a gun.

Callahan claimed to have jumped from the Brooklyn bridge on July 27 last and from the Black Friars bridge, in London, seven years ago. Had he lived he would have claimed the championship of the world. He did not do his fatal act on a wager, he said.

THE SHERIFF LAID IN WAIT

And Prevented Wholesale Murder by Killing the Would-be Murderer.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 28.—L. U. Orme, sheriff of this county, yesterday afternoon shot Dr. Rose at Mesa, sixteen miles east of Phoenix, with a shotgun, killing him instantly. Rose, with two confederates, had attempted to murder the Williams family, consisting of the doctor, his young wife and daughter. The latter was formerly the wife of Dr. Rose in Kansas.

The confederates, Burt and Cooley, were captured and placed in jail. Burt previously gave the plot away to the sheriff, but was afraid to refuse to help execute the plans of the murder for fear Rose would kill him. Sheriff Orme was in Dr. Williams' bedroom awaiting the assassins, while United States Deputy Marshal Stankard remained outside to watch. At 9:30 Burt came out and cut the screens and unlocked the door. At 11 o'clock he returned with Rose and entered the house.

Rose had a blacksmith's hammer in his right hand, a wagon spoke in the other, and a pistol in his pocket. Two dummies had been place in Dr. Williams' bed. Rose struck one with the hammer. Sheriff Orme said: "Hold up your hands. I am sheriff of this county, and have you covered with a double barreled shotgun."

After waiting a few seconds he again said: "I will surely shoot if you don't throw up your hands."

Rose failed to do so, and the sheriff fired both barrels, killing him. Rose was wanted by the government for holding up mails, and also in Kansas for bank robbery. He had $300 and seven doses of arsenic sewed in the waistband of his trousers.

Fatal Fright from Hazing.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 28.—Fright over an attempted hazing at Michael's university may prove the death of Miss Mary Jennings. A. M. Gifford, coach of the football team, and two students, attempted to haze Theodore Vera, son of Colonel Vera, of Custer, Pa. Disguised and masked they came upon Vera, with pistols presented. The young man ran into the college terror stricken, screaming murder. Miss Jennings, of the college, became so frightened at his cries that she fell unconscious to the floor. She has not yet recovered consciousness, and her recovery is doubtful.

No Cuba Day at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Oct. 28.—At yesterday's meeting of the exposition directors many directors who were not present when a day was set aside for Cuba brought the matter up again, and insisted that the exposition company should not take part in matters of international concern. After discussion the day was postponed from Nov. 6 to 17. This is regarded as virtually an indefinite postponement, for the day is so near the close of the exposition that it is not likely it will be further considered.

A Mar. a d Murder Sensation.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 28.—A sensation has been caused here by an indictment of murder brought by the grand jury against Richard D. Johnson, formerly prominent in society, charged with the death of Grant W. Zufall. Zufall came from Meyersdale last Christmas eve, and was last seen entering the saloon of John Yaste. Two months later Zufall's body was found under the ice of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. Investigation showed he had been murdered.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—At the conclusion of the animated debate in the chamber of deputies on Saturday, in which M. Camaux attempted to strike M. Jaurez, who had attacked the government for declining to intervene and arbitrate the labor dispute with the socialists at the Camaux Glass works, the minister of the interior prevailed upon the manager of the Camaux Glass works to reinstate his furnaces and to provide work for several hundred men.

FLAMES AT A NOTED COLLEGE.

The University of Virginia Loses $300,000 by a Conflagration.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 28.—The University of Virginia suffered great loss from a fire yesterday. The local fire department was unable to cope with the flames, and assistance was obtained from Staunton and Lynchburg, which, however, arrived too late to save the public hall and the rotunda. The fire started in the former building and a large quantity of dynamite was used on the portico between the rotunda and the public hall, but beyond displacing the large pillars nothing was accomplished. Attention was then given to the buildings known as "Old Chapel" and reading room. These were blown up and the debris saturated with water, and the fire thereby was confined to the hall and rotunda. The library, containing about $15,000 worth of books, statues, paintings, etc., was in the rotunda. An effort to save these resulted in getting out Jefferson's statue and possibly three-fourths of the books. Everything else was burned. The total loss is estimated at not less than $300,000.

Fainted in the Pulpit.

GREENVILLE, O., Oct. 28.—Rev. C. W. Hoeffer, the Republican candidate for the legislature, charged with offering the Democratic executive to vote for a Democrat for senator if they would give him $1,500 for election purposes, appeared in the pulpit to preach yesterday. After announcing that he had taken a powder which a boy brought him at midnight, supposing it to be from his family physician, he fell back fainting into a chair, creating the greatest confusion. To all questions he responded: "My lips are glued." He was taken to his home, where admission is denied all others.

Alarming Epidemic of Diphtheria.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 28.—Diphtheria and fever is prevalent at this place and other smaller towns in Fayette county to an alarming extent. The death rate is unprecedented in years and the health authorities are doing little or nothing to prevent the spread of the disease. In the last three months the mortality of the town has footed up to about 200, and three-fourths of these deaths have been caused by diphtheria and fever. At several points in the coke regions diphtheria is epidemic and is carrying off large numbers of children.

NO LYNCHING IN OHIO.

Brave Defense of a Prisoner by a Sheriff and His Guard.

TWO WOULD-BE LYNCHERS KILLED.

The Determined Attitude of the Officials Overawed the Riotous Mob, and the Prisoner Was Spirited Away—Governor McKinley Orders Out Troops.

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 28.—The city has been shocked from center to circumference over the attempt to lynch Marshal Schultz's slayer. The mob that attacked the jail early yesterday morning was composed of the worst specimens of law defiers that any community could produce. Whisky had been indulged in to the extent that they were more like bloodthirsty wolves than human beings. To reason with them meant danger, if not death, to the peacemaker. The mob came from an entirely unexpected source. The report was current that a crowd of farmers from Hopewell township was congregating and organizing on the outskirts of the town, and the attack was expected to be made by them. But instead it was done by fellows who had been circulating in the vicinity of the jail all evening. It was hardly supposed that they would dare to do such a thing, and the police made no effort to quiet them.

Thus matters went on until about 1:15 a. m. Six men gathered on the lawn about fifty feet from the jail, and in a moment about thirty others joined them. Then a sharp whistle was heard, and out of an alley on the opposite side of the street rushed fully 300 more, the leaders carrying a rope and several sledge hammers with which to accomplish their work. The sledges were procured at a stone quarry, and the rope was thick enough to hang a dozen men. As the mob made the rush towards the jail they emitted yells that were blood curdling, eclipsing any savage yell ever uttered.

A squad of policemen who had stationed themselves on the steps were whisked to one side as though they were so many straws. Officer Keiffer, who made a brave and fierce resistance, was struck on the head with a sledge and kicked brutally. He was carried home unconscious, and is now hovering between life and death. Officer Fischer was thrown against a brick wall and partially stunned, and Officer Hennessy was tumbled over in the grass and kept there by a ruffian, who held a murderous looking club over him and threatened death if he did not lie still. The other officers were treated in the same way.

The mob went direct to the side entrance and commenced the onslaught on the door with their sledges. They were without any reason whatever, and made no demand for the keys. Michael Schmidutz, a powerful teamster, wielded the sledge, and the door was broken in splinters in a short time. With each blow the fury of the crowd increased. When the entrance was gained there was a wild rush and the hallways was filled with excited men. Sheriff Vannest and three men stood in the opposite end. He appealed to them most bravely and strongly several times, asking them to disperse. It did no good, for the men only grew fiercer.

The entrance to the corridor is first protected by a heavy sheet iron door. The lock was broken off with a few blows and then there remained the heavy grating. Then it was that the guards, who were in that portion, began to fire. At first they shot over the rioters' heads. One of the guards declares the men swore to kill every person inside, and to show their purpose they began to fire at them. The guards said no shot was fired by them until the attacking party had fired through the grating first. Henry Mutchler, the first man killed, was the one who carried the rope. He was shot through the left temple, the ball coming out on the right side, and he died instantly. Then Christ Matz received a bullet through his heart. He was also picked up dead.

This work and the determination of the guards awed the would be lynchers, and they left the place cursing and wilder than ever. Vic Vindone, a young Italian laborer, left with the intention of getting dynamite to blow up the building, but he never put in appearance afterward. While in the midst of the attack Vindone rushed upon a daughter of the sheriff and threatened to kill her. Another fellow held a revolver close to the heart of Andrew Greer, a one armed son-in-law of the sheriff, and pulled the trigger, but it missed fire, and the next instant the one fist of Greer felled the would be assassin to the floor.

The sheriff's family was up stairs, and one of the mob seeing them at the head of the stairs, rushed viciously at them, but some one threw him headlong to the bottom.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, after the mob had moved further down the street, the prisoner was handcuffed, taken through a side door and then to a side alley, where a carriage was in waiting. Police Captain Falkner and Officer Sweeney took him to Sandusky county as fast as the horses could carry them. Many people refused to believe that the prisoner had been taken away, and at 10 o'clock a crowd numbering hundreds started to make another attack, but wiser counsel prevailed. Finally, to pacify them, one of their number who knew the murderer, was allowed to search the building. He did not find the prisoner, and so informed the crowd, but they refused to believe him. Then Company E, of the Second regiment of militia of this city, was called to guard the building.

In the afternoon the crowd again surrounded the place. They became so determined that a committee of six well known citizens again searched the building from cellar to garret. Among the party was Mayor Fox, and when they had finished the search he appeared on the front steps of the building, and in behalf of the committee said the man could not be found. Captain Falkner, who had just returned from Sandusky county, spoke to the crowd also. They could not help but be satisfied, and the greater part dispersed.

In response to the governor's orders, Company I, of the Sixteenth regiment, thirty-five men; Company D, Sixteenth regiment, forty-five men, and Companies G and I, of Kenton, arrived last evening, and a strict guard will be kept for several days. Over 200 guardsmen are here.

The crime for which an attempt was made to lynch Lee Martin was committed last Wednesday. Martin was a farmer, living a short distance from Tiffin. A warrant had been issued for his arrest on the charge of having threatened to kill Ezra Smith, a neighbor. City Marshal August Schultz and Policeman Sweeny, of Tiffin, went to his house to arrest him. Martin swore that he would never be taken alive. The officers sat down and tried to reason with him, but to no purpose. When Martin's attention was attracted for an instant by a noise outside, the marshal sprang upon him and grasped the rifle. Martin, growing desperate, disengaged one hand and pulled his revolver, and fired three times, all the shots taking effect in the marshal's body. Schultz died in twenty minutes. Abraham Sheidler, Ezra Smith's father-in-law, struck Martin with a stone, and held him until Officer Sweeny secured him with handcuffs.

Another Jail Breaking Prevented.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—A second attempt within a week at jail breaking was frustrated by the jail warden, George Watkins. Walter Sheppard, charged with stealing bicycles, managed to secrete a broken saw blade about his person when he was committed a few days ago, and had sawed nearly in half an iron bar in a window and another in his cell door. Some cards dropped through the window to a confederate, who did not show up, exposed the plot.

Indians Fighting Fire.

PERRY, O. T., Oct. 28.—A destructive prairie fire raged for five hours yesterday east of here. Many thousands of bushels of corn and many tons of hay and vast fields of kaffir corn were destroyed. The wind was very high and hundreds of whites and Indians turned out to fight the fire.

NO FIGHT IN ARKANSAS.

Governor Clarke Reiterates His Former Determination.

TALKING OF A PRIVATE CONTEST.

While Hot Springs Sports Profess to Believe That the Talking Pugilists Will Meet, the Governor Says There Must be No Fight, Public or Private.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 28.—Governor Clarke received information yesterday from Hot Springs which convinced him beyond question that an effort will be made to pull off the fight at Hot Springs on schedule time. From what source he received the information he declined to state. The governor still says he will prevent it. He cares not whether it takes place publicly or privately. "The men shall not fight on Arkansas soil," said he.

GOVERNOR CLARE.

It is believed that Fitzsimmons will be arrested immediately on his arrival in the state, and placed under a heavy peace bond. Governor Clarke says he has been informed for several days that an effort will be made to pull of the fight in private, which fact will compel him to be absent on Arkansas day at the Atlanta exposition.

Constable Allen P. Davis, of Hot Springs, was in this city yesterday, and gave out information which leads those who talked to him to believe that Corbett and Fitzsimmons will fight in private, not far from Hot Springs, one day about the latter part of this week.

Friday morning Corbett was supplied with newspapers containing intimations to the effect that he was about to quit the state to avoid a meeting with the lanky New Zealander. After perusing the papers it is related that he fractured the adjacent ozone with ponderous swipes and vowed that he would stay in Garland county and make mince meat, metaphorically speaking, out of Julian's man. He at once pitched into the work of training.

The prevailing opinion in Hot Springs sporting circles is that the fight will certainly occur at some point in or near Garland county. Such an air of mystery surrounds the whole proceedings that it is very hard to get any thoroughly reliable information on the subject, but that preparations are being made in a quiet way for a fight no one doubts. Many Hot Springs' people believe that the fight will occur at Whittington Park, the place originally selected, and that the battle will occur on the date orginally agreed. They argue that the decision of the supreme court affirming the prize fight law leaves the matter exactly where it was before Corbett was arrested.

The fact that the Hot Springs Athletic club have engaged a circus tent seems to indicate, however, that some private spot has been selected. A close friend of Governor Clarke has been shown letters from Hot Springs which tend to confirm the belief that a fight will occur. One of these letters is said to have come from Attorney Martin and stated that preparations were being made for a private fight. Governor Clarke, in speaking of this information, is said to have remarked that he did not care how much they fought, so long as it was conducted in private, and without being advertised.

All are residents of Shoemakersville.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Edgar Gibbs Murphy met with a serious accident last night at his home in Hollywood, Long Branch, that in all probability will end his days as the foremost amateur pigeon shoot in America. While engaged in cleaning his bicycle his trigger finger became caught between the chain and cog as it was being rapidly revolved by his brother, and the first joint of the finger was cut off as cleanly as if it had been done with a cleaver.

CAUSE OF THE PANIC.

It Was the McKinley and the Sherman Silver Law.

The law having authorized private owners of the silver dollars to deposit them in the treasury, and receive therefor certificates payable on demand in silver dollars, some 330 millions of those certificates are outstanding, and have by executive order, been made redeemable on demand in gold. Thus there are now some $30 millions of Republican made paper dollars to be perpetually redeemed in gold on demand and then reissued to be again redeemed.

That Secretary Sherman describes as "truly American currency" manufactured by the Republican party.

He omitted to say that "the truly American currency" and McKinleyism have been the arch enemies of our finances; that, combined with the law which bears his name, they produced in 1893 one of the most unnecessary, devasting and cruel panics and business depressions known in our annals, which came because of the general belief that the treasury could not long continue to redeem in gold on demand the outstanding 500 millions of greenbacks, and the 330 millions of silver certificates, to say nothing of the national bank notes. Hence the repeal of Senator Sherman's law of 1890!

His "truly American currency," of Republican manufacture, has annually, during the last two years, cost the government eighty millions to get the gold for the "endless chain" of redemption.—From Temporary Chairman Perry Belmont's speech at Syracuse convention.

It Was the Republican Origin.

It is easier now than it was in the heat of public excitement a year ago to assert the proposition, which is absolutely true, that the exposures of corruption in the police department of New York, which were unjustly used against the Democratic party at the election, were more chargeable to the Republican party than to our own; the laws which permitted corruption were of Republican origin; the system which encouraged it was distinctively Republican; the officers who connived at it and were found to have participated in it were mostly Republicans, and after the exposures were made and public sentiment properly revolted both against them and the bipartisan system which was responsible for them; it was the Republican party, through its representatives in the legislature (and in the United States Express office) which deliberately perpetuated that vicious system and made possible a recurrence of its evils.—Ex-Gov. Flower at Syracuse convention.

Personal Liberty.

We must not forget that this is a free government, the fundamental principle of which is individual freedom, a government where personal tastes, habits and customs can not be regulated except where they actually trespass upon the rights of others, a government where there is no established religion—where State and church are separate, where perfect religious freedom is guaranteed, where the observance of Sunday is not a matter of constitutional requirement, but is merely a subject of regulation by State or local law, to be controlled only so far as may be actually necessary for the preservation of good order and the maintenance of the individual rights of all the people.—From Senator Hill's Personal Liberty address to Chemung county Democrats.

Grotesque Declarations.

Nothing more grotesque in politics has been heard in a long time than these solemn reiterations of Republican virtue declared within four months of the adjournment of a Republican legislature which impartial judgment has described as the most corrupt in the annals of the State and of which even the leading Republican newspaper of State and nation, the New York Tribune said: 'It has shown from the beginning a disposition to palter with the people who elected it and so far as it could to deceive and betray them.'—Ex- Gov. Flower at Syracuse convention.

Disappointed and Betrayed.

"I do not stand here in the perfunctory manner of partisans on such an occasion as this to denounce the other party and to praise my own. I am merely stating what every intelligent voter in the State knows to be true and what every independent voter will tell you, namely that the people who last November under the impulse of an earnest moral sentiment, whether justly or unjustly aroused, placed the Republican party in power to accomplish desired reforms, have been woefully disappointed and shamefully betrayed.—Ex-Gov. Flower at Syracuse convention.

What Governor Seymour Said.

I think there is now a general recognition among thinking men of the wisdom of the remarks of Governor Horatio Seymour, when he once said, as early as 1854, "All experience shows that temperance, like other virtues, is not produced by law-makers, but by the influence of education, morality and religion. Men may be persuaded—they cannot be compelled to adopt habits of temperance."—Senator Hill on Personal Liberty.

One of McKinley's Breaks.

McKinley claims that the return of prosperity is caused by the return of the Republican party to power. This brilliant and self-complaisant remark is sufficient to cause a hailstorm and to freeze over Lake Erie along the Ohio border. The Republican party has not yet been returned to power and is not likely to be.—Miami County Sentinel.

Loyalty Essential.

A political party to be successful must have obedience and loyalty to the organization by all its members. On any other conditions a party will be powerless.—From Temporary Chairman Perry Belmont's speech at Syracuse convention.

The More the Merrier.

Platt keeps on winning victories in New York, and the Democrats are correspondingly elated. The more Platt triumphs the more are the people of that State disgusted with Republicanism.—Boston Globe.

But He is a Candidate.

There is not a Plattite paper in the State that would dare to nominate "the great leader" as a candidate for the United States senate.—Buffalo Commercial (Rep.)

Mr. H. C. Smith, No. 649 Perry steet, Newark, N. J., says: "After several physicians gave up my case as beyond their skill, I wrote to Prof. Munyon. I had dyspepsia and constant distress in the stomach, chronic diarrhoea, catarrh, with continual dropping of mucus in the throat and stoppage of the nose. I suffered so much from rheumatism in the shoulder that I could scarcely move my arm. I also had kidney trouble, with backache and swelling of the feet and ankles. In fact, it would be hard to find a more obstinate and complicated case, and I could scarcely believe Prof. Munyon's statement that his remedies would cure me. But I confess freely that I was completely cured by a short course of Munyon's Remedies. I wish to particularly recommend his new catarrh treatment as the mildest and yet the most promptly curative of any I have used."

Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 1505 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Rev. T. De Witt Talmage preached his initial sermon as co-pastor of the First Presbyterian church last night. The crowd was an immense one, and it is safe to say that had Convention hall, the largest public place of gathering in the city, been used for the purpose it would not have been large enough to accommodate the number that went to hear the noted Brooklyn divine. Seven policemen were on hand to keep the people moving and a dozen ladies who were in the habit of attending Mr. Talmage's church, but who failed to get into the auditorium, took a seat on the outside.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

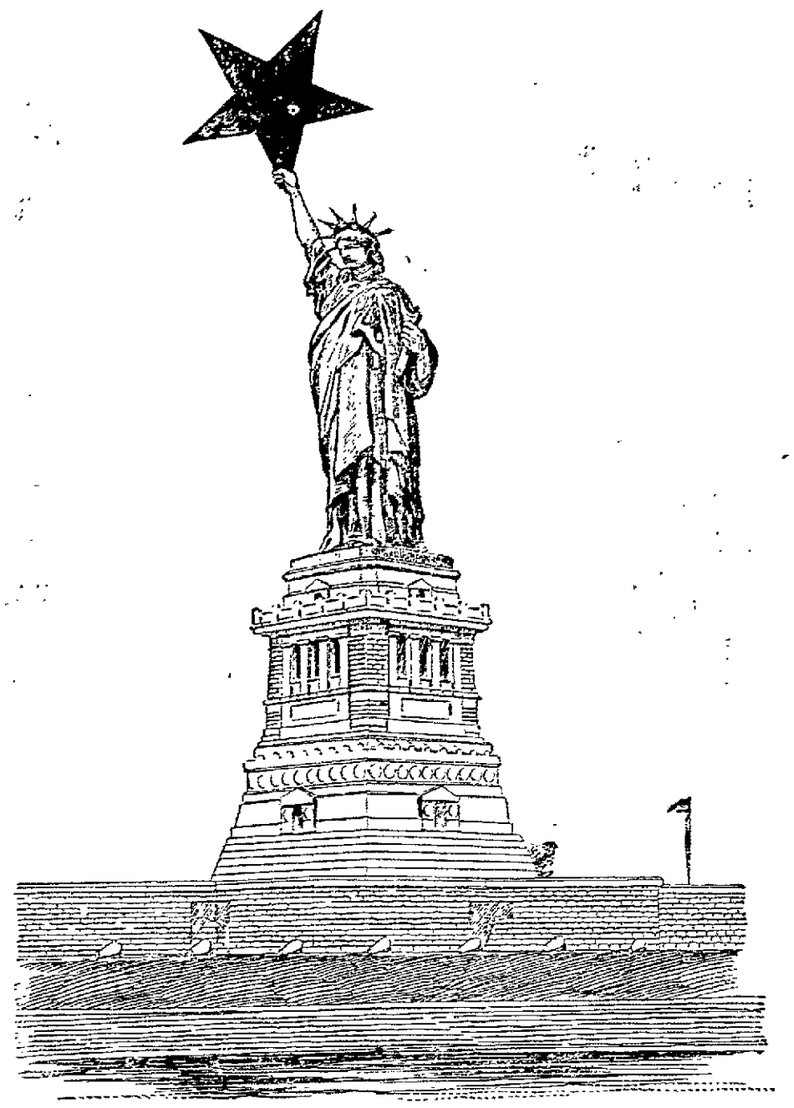
The Democratic Star Enlightening the State.



VOTE THE STAR TICKET.

THE BUSINESS MEN AROUSED.

REPRESENTATIVE NEW YORK BANKERS AND MERCHANTS APPEAL FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE STAR TICKET.

Democracy Means Good Times—The Democratic Star In All Its Effulgence Lighting the Path to Victory and the Continuance of the Revival of Trade.

[New York Correspondence.]

The attitude of the business men of this the greatest business center on this side of the Atlantic toward the Democratic state ticket this year is very significant. They are particularly interested in the success of the party which they believe has brought them out of the financial slough of despond into which Republican misgovernment plunged them and placed them on a sure footing. They also believe that true municipal reform and home rule can only be attained through the Democratic party.

In an address just issued by the Business Men's Democratic association of New York and signed by Theodore W. Myers, president; J. J O'Donohue, chairman of the executive committee, and Walter Stanton, some very sound advice was given to voters from the most influential source whence it could emanate. The address says:

"We think that at this time one must carry away the conviction that of the different parties who are seeking to elect state officers and members of the state legislature the business man who desires a low rate of taxation, who does not believe in special legislation, who is for the principles of home rule and local government and is opposed to the unfair distribution of the burden of taxation must give his support to the Democratic party, as offering the best prospects that some, if not all, of these principles will be put in practice by legal enactment should that party be placed in control of the state government. This conviction is all the more strengthened when we regard the personnel of the candidates who have been put in nomination by the Democratic party—men of character, ability and fitness. We feel it our duty and pleasure to indorse the nominations and pledge to them our earnest and hearty support, and we call on all citizens to assist in returning a Democratic assembly and senate.

"We must not, as business men, forget that it is the political complexion of the coming state legislature that is of more importance than any other issue that confronts us.

"We appeal to the voter who has at heart the true interest of reform to support the Democratic state ticket and spare no effort in securing the election of a Democratic legislature."

Business prosperity, municipal reform and home rule, in the opinion of those clear headed, experienced business men, can only be maintained through the success of the Democratic party in this state. The revival of trade would be checked by Republican triumph, for this would forbode another complete change of policy at Washington and the disturbance of business by great tariff tinkering. The record of the last Platt legislature is sufficient to show what little reliance can be placed on such a body for fair legislation in regard to municipalities.

Democratic Business Boom.

One of the most cheerful and encouraging signs of the campaign is the business situation. The Democratic state committee has received from merchants and business men generally the brightest accounts of the progress of the revival in business under the Democratic tariff. Activity is seen in every branch of leading manufacturing interests, and the general impression is that the tide of prosperity will rise higher and higher under Democratic auspices, and wise, liberal government, until every ugly reminder of the panic is obliterated. Business men who have visited headquarters rightly maintain that with the return of prosperous times and plenty of employment under Democratic government, the trickery and deceit of Republican calamity shriekers will be no longer of any avail. There is a healthy, inspiring tone in the business atmosphere, and people are now too busy taking advantage of the good times to be led away by the misrepresentations of the party which, during those wasteful years from 1889 to 1893, prepared the way in congress and in the national government for the panic.

How to Keep Up the Business Boom.

Those business men have assured the members of the Democratic state committee at headquarters in this city that they fully appreciate the importance of a Democratic victory this year in New York state to insure the continuance of the good times. They say that Democratic defeat in this state on the eve of a presidential year would go far toward checking the present business boom and bringing back again distrust, uncertainty and that fatal loss of confidence which acts as an effectual stop to enterprise and industrial development. A Republican victory in this state would be an intimation to business men that there would be another period of tariff agitation and another disturbance of business conditions.

Democratic Success Essential For Prosperous Times.

According to the opinions of the soundest business men in this city, therefore, it is essential that the Democratic state ticket be elected and this state placed on record on the eve of the presidential year as the stanch supporter of the wise policy which has brought about prosperous times and has removed the obstacles in the path of national industrial development. Democratic success in New York this fall means Democratic national success next year and a continuance of the Democratic policy which has led to the resumption of manufacturing and business enterprise generally on a larger scale than ever known before.

Republican Misrule.

Apart from the general aspects of the business question leading manufacturers and merchants have spoken at Democratic headquarters on the condition of things brought about by one year's experience of Republican rule in this state.

The enormous increase of state taxes caused by the Republican legislature last winter with the aid of the Republican governor is a question of most serious import to every taxpayer. Increased taxation is always an unpleasant topic, more particularly for those responsible for it. It is doubly unpleasant when it is indefensible, still more so when inflicted at a time when the business and farming communities are emerging from the severe experiences of the panic.

At this period every business man, every farmer wants to take immediate advantage of the great business boom which has spread all over the country, and which, like the Democratic emblem, is a star of hope, showing a long vista of prosperity, enterprise and industrial development extending before the eyes of the country.

No Excuse For Increased Taxes.

Now, why this increased taxation? There has been no sudden emergency, no unlooked for crisis, no extraordinary occasion to bring it about. It has been an ordinary year. There is nothing whatever to show that the public service warranted any increase of taxes. On the contrary, there was every reason to expect a lower tax rate. What caused the increase?

Look at the record of last winter's Republican legislature and you will find the answer. Look at the incompetency and blunders of important state departments managed by the Republican "accidents" of two years ago and you will find the reason. Those "accidents" are up for re-election.

Another Opportunity to Rob the State.

When Republican rulers are able to accomplish this astounding result in one session of the legislature, there is no knowing to what lengths they may go now that they have their hands in, if they get another opportunity. They spent enough money on the numberless partisan investigations alone to put up the tax rate several pegs higher.

The "Accidents" as State Officers.

Mismanagement and extravagance in the state departments controlled by Republicans were conspicuous elements in the increase of the tax rate. They demanded increased appropriations, and they got them. The taxpayers have now to foot the bills. The election of the Democratic state ticket and of a Democratic legislature will put a stop to all this squandering of the people's money.

WARNING TO DEMOCRATS.

DON'T SCRATCH ANY NAMES OFF YOUR BALLOTS.

If You Do, They Are Null and Void—The Slightest Erasure Invalidates Your Vote. Mark Only Under the Star.

We observe that careless public speakers in the present political campaign are advising their hearers to scratch some particular name or names on this or that ticket, as the case may be, and vote the rest of the ticket.

Voters must be careful not to act upon this advice literally. If they follow it, they will render their ballots absolutely void.

Under the blanket ballot law a vote is wholly lost if the voter erases a single word from the ballot.

This fact cannot be too distinctly or emphatically brought to the attention of voters.

The language of the law is this: "Any ballot from which there shall have been erased any device, figure or word, or upon which there shall be written any word or words other than the name of a candidate, as above provided, shall be wholly void and shall not be counted."

Now, to a man who does not know anything about this provision the most natural thing in the world to do, if he does not want to vote for a particular candidate on his own party ticket, is to draw a pencil mark through the name of that candidate. Such a procedure this year, however, will be fatal to his entire vote. An erasure of any emblem, number or word invalidates the ballot.

The best way to avoid all risk is to make a cross in the circular space which you will find just below the Star, Democratic emblem, and not mark your ballot in any other manner whatever.

Friends of Labor.

President William J. O'Brien of the Workingmen's assembly of the state of New York, a labor organization of all trades comprising a collective membership of 125,000 members, with the legislative committee appointed yearly to look up the record of senators and members of assembly on labor bills, made a report yesterday. Last year 18 distinctively labor measures were introduced in both houses. The senators appearing on the roll of honor as having voted for 16 of the 18 labor measures are Senators Bradley of Brooklyn, Parker of Albany and Rice of Ulster. The name of no Republican senator appears on the roll of honor. Special or favorable mention of senators voting for 14 out of the 18 measures are Senators Cantor, Collins, Ahearn, O'Donnell, O'Sullivan and Coggeshall, Coffey, Guy, Owens and Wolff. The names of only four Republican senators receive favorable mention out of all the Republican senators who controlled the senate. The name of no Democratic senator appears on the black list, while the names of Senators Donaldson and Higgins, both Republicans, are blacklisted.

The record of assemblymen shows that the Democrats generally voted for all the labor bills introduced in the lower house, and the black list is made up almost exclusively of Republicans.

In the report President O'Brien says, "Place your votes where the enemies of organized labor placed theirs in the senate and assembly and against every one of them that voted against our interests, and, above all, help to re-elect those who have shown themselves friendly to our measures."

The report is also highly commendatory to the Democrats for their support of the minority report of the finance committee last winter in defending the attacks made upon the three labor departments of the state. As will be remembered, Senator Cantor, now a candidate for senator in the Twentieth senatorial district, drew up this report after several conferences with the labor departmental heads and prominent labor leaders. The report generally is a most interesting one, enumerating all of the labor bills introduced in both houses, and makes mention of Assemblyman Nixon, Republican of Chautauqua, saying that "he was the most pronounced enemy of organized labor and did not record a single vote for any of the labor measures."

Erysipelas

as do other diseases caused by an impoverished condition of the blood, when Bovinine is used. It is not a medicine, but the most perfect food product, containing all the vital principles of lean, raw beef. It is quickly assimilated, and by its wonderful power of creating new flesh tissue and enriching the blood, soon puts the patient in a physical state where disease can find no footing.

besides its wonderful effect as a food, is invaluable in such cases as an external application, nourishing by absorption, and creating new, healthy flesh, where the disease is manifested. Dr. H. M. Sanger of Providence, R. I., says that he effected very rapid cures with slight spreading and no suppuration in three cases of erysipelas, two by simply applying gauze saturated with, and the third by injecting Bovinine at the border of the inflamed patch. Mr. George Stevenson, of Cornwall, a professed Prohibitionist, has been in this city and elsewhere in the county, trying to convince the Prohibitionists that they should vote for William D. Dickey for Justice of the Supreme Court. Mr. Stevenson has made but little headway. Col. Dickey never had a political idea that did not begin and end with the Republican party. He has no more sympathy with Prohibition than he has with Democracy. There is no reason why he should receive the vote of a single Democrat or Prohibitionist.

The Chester News, independent, says of Mr. J. Hudson Board, the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of the Poor says:

He will look closely after the interests of the county with the same zeal as he has always looked after other public offices held by him. Whoever he meets and converses with, he makes his friend. When brought in contact with Mr. Board men realize at once that in him they will have a representative who will do them honor, and to whom they can refer with assurances begotten of confidence. His past record has been clean and brilliant. He will still continue to maintain the same high integrity and intellect, in every way able to represent his town and county at the November election in a most creditable manner. Mr. Board is an intelligent practical farmer, and as the majority of the voters of Orange County are interested in the Superintendent of the Poor, they should consult their own interests by casting their vote for one who will look after the welfare of that institution.

A CHANCE TO THROW OFF BOSS RULE.

Orange county Republicans who chafe under boss rule have, this fall, an opportunity such as they never had before and may never have again to throw off the yoke and assert their independence. Politically, the election is not an important one, for the control of the State and national governments is not at stake and the most important local offices are non-political, so it is possible to rebuke the bosses without affecting party prospects.

If ever a nomination was forced by a political boss it was that of Obadiah P. Howell, for Surrogate. The nomination was promised him a year ago as his price for getting out of the race for the county judgeship and leaving a clear field for Judge Beattie, and in fulfillment of this agreement Boss Odell ruthlessly turned down Mr. Thornton, of Newburgh, Mr. McElroy, of Warwick, and Judge Little, of this city. Mr. Howell was not the choice of the Republicans of Orange county for this very important and most responsible office. They know that Mr. Howell is not the man for such a place. Will they have the political courage to rebuke bossism by defeating the unfit candidate whom the ruler of their party has forced upon them? Indications multiply that they will.

Another of the boss's candidates is Michael H. Hirschberg, who is seeking a third term as District Attorney. Mr. Hirshcberg is one of Mr. Odell's most willing tools. When orders were issued, last winter, to boycott Sheriff Beakes and starve him out by diverting from his office the public business that naturally belongs to it, Mr. Hirschberg obeyed without a murmur and irresponsible constables, here and there throughout the county, have been entrusted with the service of papers for the District Attorney's office that a decent and orderly administration of the public business required should be served through the Sheriff's office. How better can self-respecting Republicans strike at the boss than through his creature, who has lent himself to this shameless scheme to punish a one-armed soldier, whose only offense was his refusal to give up half his office to a greedy place hunter?

ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

George Rogers, of Howells, Accused of Stealing Erie Railroad Tickets.

George Rogers, a sixteen-year-old boy of Howells, was arrested, to-day, on the charge of robbing the Erie ticket office at that place and was sent to Goshen jail pending a hearing.

On the night of Sept. 18th the ticket office was entered through a rear window and twenty tickets from Howells to Middletown, were stolen, and the stamp was changed to Sept, 19th.

Conductor Mandeville was "called down" some time ago for honoring three of these tickets, and kept watch for more of them, Thursday. Rogers boarded the train and offered a ticket bearing the same date. Mr. Mandeville took the ticket and collected fare of the lad, who gave a fictitious name, and watching his opportunity jumped from the car before it reached the depot.

Detectivers were put on his track and made the arrest as stated.

What Shall I Do?

Is the earnest, almost agonizing cry of weak, tired, nervous women, and crowded, overworked, struggling men. Slight difficulties, ordinary cares, household work or daily labor, magnify themselves into seemingly impassable mountains.

This is simply because the nerves are weak, the bodily organs debilitated, and they do not

JEAN STUART BROWN'S READING.

The Interesting Programme That Will Be Presented Friday Evening.

Miss Jean Stuart Brown, who will give a reading at the Assembly Rooms, Friday evening, Nov. 1st, for the benefit of Thrall Hospital, comes very highly recommended. All who heard her read "A Winter's Tale" at Interpines, a short time since, are enthusiastic in their praises of her elocutionary gifts. Prof. Husted, of the New York State Normal College, Albany, says of Miss Brown:

The readings of Miss Jean Stuart Brown delighted the large and appreciative audience which recently assembled to celebrate the semi-centennial anniversary of her Alma Mater, the New York State Normal College at Albany. To an attractive presence and a voice of rare power and sweetness, she adds the enthusiasm of a cultivated mind and an exquisite taste.

The musical part of Friday evening's entertainment will be furnished by Miss Bertha Morgans, whom Middletown audiences always delight to hear, and by the Banjo Quartette, Messrs. Iseman, Hayes, Brown and Stratton. The programme for the evening is as follows:

A CARD.

With excellent facilities for handling Groceries in large quantities, my friends are asking me why I do not wish to wholesale to dealers who buy in smaller quantities. The reason is this:—"No man can successfully ride two horses at once." Should I try to wholesale, fairness to the merchants to whom I sold would compel me to keep up my retail prices to protect them but buying in large lots and avoiding the middle man I can and do divide the extra profit with the consumer, hence I solicit only the retail trade.

CORSETS.

In choosing your new frock, you are very likely copying one that took your fancy. On Miss Chic, who wore it, it was all you could desire, but are you sure it will suit you as well? Pretty clothes do much toward making a woman appear well dressed. Style, as we know it, consists more in the way clothes are worn than in the clothes themselves Fashionable women have learned the knack of wearing clothes, and without perfect fitting Corsets there is no such thing as perfect fitting gowns. No woman can be taught to wear her clothes well; she learns the secret by degrees. She must be sure that her clothes and Corsets suit her, in shape, size and material, and she must never be self-conscious of them once they are on her. She must stand well, walk well and sit well. If Miss Chic fits herself with one of our Z Z French Corsets and you do not, therein will lie the secret of the possible disappointment to you in the copied gown

THE LIVINGSTON MANOR MYSTERY.

No Light Yet Thrown on Mrs. Ward's Disappearance — Searching Parties Out Yesterday—A Cave Explored, but Nothing Found — Searchers Ordered Out of the Ward House by Milton Ward's Father.

Special Correspondence of DAILY ARGUS.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, October 28.—No startling developments have occurred in connection with the Ward mystery. Sunday a large number of people visited the premises, but no thorough search was made or attempted. A cave, two miles and a half from the house, was explored, but beyond stirring up a few bats the searchers accomplished nothing.

A lock of woman's hair was found on the porch of the Ward house and a few blood stains have been discovered on the side of the house, which young Howard Ward says are the result of a dog fight.

Several residents in the vicinity of Shanlee pond claim that their dogs did an unusual amount of barking, Monday night, and they are led to believe that the body of Mrs. Ward was sunk in the pond at that time. This theory, however, is not generally accepted and if the woman has been murdered it is probable her body was not removed any great distance from the house.

Ward was about all day as usual and his ten-year-old boy was conspicious, chewing tobacco, puffing a cob pipe and indulging freely in profanity.

Parties entered the cellar of the Ward house, but were ordered out by Milton Ward's father, and it is said that the Wards are not disposed to look with favor upon any move to search the premises. The majority of the people here are of the opinion that there is no person better able to account for the absence of Mrs. Ward than her husband.

BLOOD STAINS ON WARD'S CELLAR FLOOR

Special to the DAILY ARGUS.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, Oct. 28, 2. p. m.—District Attorney Hill arrived here, this morning, and took personal charge of the investigation into the disappearance of Mrs. Ward.

The ARGUS representative and several citizens accompanied him to the Ward house and a thorough and systematic search was made of the entire premises.

Several blood stains were found on the cellar floor. The District Attorney had the boards taken up and took charge of them.

The Ward family are evidently becoming alarmed and show more signs of uneasiness than at any time since the investigation begun.

A WHOLE FAMILY MADE SICK.

They All Ate Oysters at Night and All Were Writhing in Pain Before Morning.

Dr. D. B. Smiley was called to the residence of Mr. Charles Keener, on Broad street, at an early hour Saturday morning, and found every member of the family, except one girl who was away from home, terribly sick.

They explained that during the night father, mother and all the children, four or five in number, were seized with violent pains in the stomach, severe headache and vomiting, the symptoms in each case being exactly the same.

The physician prescribed the proper remedies, and all of the sufferers recovered.

The only explanation for this sickness of the whole family is that some oysters eaten by them, Friday night, had passed beyond the stage when when they were fit to eat. The oysters were purchased from a huckster and had probably been on his wagon too long. Every member of the family at home ate of the oysters, and all suffered the consequences.

ANOTHER WARNING TO BOYS.

A Ten-Year-Old Lad Loses an Arm in Attempting to Board a Moving Train.

Yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, a ten-year-old boy named Fred Deischler attempted to board a moving coal train at the Summit and fell with his left arm across the rail. The wheels passed over the limb, crushing it terribly.

The boy was taken to Thrall Hospital where the arm was amputated at the shoulder.

The boy is an orphan and resided with his grandparents on Wallkill avenue.

ST. JOSEPH'S ANNIVERSARY.

Impressive Ceremonies—An Admission Fee to Be Charged.

Rev Father McClancy, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, announced, yesterday, the programme for the celebration, on Nov. 10th, of the founding of the church, when the former pastors of the church will be present and participate in the ceremonies and Archbishop Corrigan will bless the new stations of the cross.

It will be a very impressive ceremony and will doubtless attract a large crowd.

Father McClancy announced, yesterday, that an admission fee of one dollar would be charged.

The body must be well nourished now, to prevent sickness. If your appetite is poor take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HYMENEAL.

Boyce—O'Leary.

Among the many autumn weddings not the least auspicious occurred, Saturday, Oct. 26th, at 204 North street, when Mr. George Boyce, a sturdy young farmer from Ulsterville, and Miss Katharine Josephine O'Leary, of New York city, were united in the holy bonds. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Norris in the presence of the sisters of the contracting parties.

A GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hunt, of Wawayanda, Celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

Fifty years ago to-day, William D. Hunt and Sarah Young were married at the bride's home near Ridgebury. To-night, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will celebrate their golden wedding, and they have bidden about 200 relatives and intimate friends to their hospitable home to assist in honoring the happy and auspicious occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt have a very warm place in the hearts of all who know them. During all the years of their life together they have been brave and true, kind and hospitable, warm friends and good neighbors. They have thought and spoken ill of no one, and have met all life's duties and responsibilities in the right way, and have won the esteem and love of all. The congratulations and good wishes that they will receive tonight will not be idle words, but will come from the hearts of all their friends. The ARGUS rejoices with them on this memorable day and most earnestly wishes that their useful and honorable lives may be spared for many years.

The Lunacy Commissioners' Journal of Insanity.

The superintendents and assistant physicians in the State hospitals are expected to contribute to the journal.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Monticello Bowlers Defeated—Funeral of Mrs. Pettit—St. John's Church Fair—A Painful Accident—Police Court Doings—Other Notes.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—In the first of a series of games between the Goshen and Monticello bowling teams, Saturday night, Goshen won two of the three games played. The Monticello boys are good bowlers and set a hot pace, but but not quite hot enough for the occasion. In their second game they rolled 847, beating the alley record. The scores were as follows: First game—Goshen, 784; Monticello, 714. Second game—Monticello, 847, Goshen, 773. Third game—Goshen, 749; Monticello, 708.

—The funeral services of the late Mrs. Sarah Pettit were held, yesterday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, from the St. Elmo.

—The fair for the benefit of St. John's Church will be opened Thursday night of this week. The interior of the church edifice is to be newly wainscoted, decorated and painted. The upper portion of the tower will also be re-slated

—Mr. Henry Powell, engineer at the electric light plant, met with a very painful accident, yesterday afternoon. While working at the steam pump which supplies the boilers with water, Mr. Powell in some manner got his left hand fastened in the machinery. Although the pump was immediately stopped the hand could not be removed and it was necessary to smash the pump with a hammer in order to release Mr. Powell. The upper, fleshier portion of the thumb was entirely torn away by the machinery. Dr. Condict was called and attended the injured man. The injury is very painful and will prevent Mr. Powell from attending to his duties for several weeks.

—In police court, yesterday, Justice Sweezy sat in judgment on two "drunks." One of them, a "hobo" umbrella mender, with his kit of tools and a large "jag" drifted into Goshen, Saturday afternoon. From the time of his arrival he added to the size of his "jag," which, by night, had assumed unwieldy proportions. He applied at a residence on West Main street for something to eat, and tried to force his way inside. Luckily the man of the house was present and the mender of umbrellas was unceremoniously hustled from the premises. He was arrested a few hours later by officer Ehlers. In the morning he was discharged and ordered to get out of town. He "got" with alacrity. The other, a farm hand, was drunk and disorderly and was creating a disturbance on Greenwich street. He was also "gathered in," and in preference to sojourning with the Sheriff for twenty days, contributed $5 to the village treasury.

—Mr. John G. Frank, with his bass trumpet, assisted the choir at the Presbyterian Church, last evening. His playing was excellent and greatly enhanced the beauty of the service.

HASTE NOT, REST NOT.

Without haste! Without rest!
Bind the motto to thy heart,
Bear it with thee as a spell,
Storm or sunshine, guard it well!
Heed not flowers that round thee bloom,
Bear it onward to the tomb!

Haste not! Let no thankless deed
Mar for aye the spirit's speed!
Ponder well, and know the right,
Onward, then, with all thy might!
Haste not! Years can ne'er atone
For one reckless action done.

Rest not! Life is sweeping by!
Go and dare before you die.
Something mighty and sublime
Leave behind to conquer time!
Glorious 'tis to live for aye
When these forms have passed away.

Haste not! Rest not! Calmly wait;
Meekly bear the storm of fate;
Duty be thy polar guide—
Do the right whate'er betide!
Haste not! Rest not! Conflicts past,
God shall crown thy work at last.

A DAY OF MARTYRDOM

The colonel and the young reporter were sipping their respective portions of a cold bottle of beer and listening to the whir of an electric fan the other night when the colonel grew reminiscent.

"Away before the war," remarked the colonel musingly, "when I was just sprouting my first whisker—a spindle shanked, truant playing product of the effete east—my father sent me out into southwest Missouri to get braced up. I don't know what was the matter with me, but I was all run down, and my father was convinced that a season on the Missouri farm of my uncle would prove beneficial alike to my mind and body. I might say before going farther that it did.

"I bade my mother a sorrowful goodby, away back in New York city, and in due course of time I landed on the farm of my uncle. It was a revelation. The verdure clad hills, the breezes smelling spicy and sweet, the cold water from the well, wholesome food in large quantities, horses to ride and a lovely pool to go swimming in made a new boy of me in a week. Barring the fact that I was compelled to retire with the rest of the family at 9 o'clock at night and get up at an hour in the morning when the dew on the grass felt to my bare feet like ice water, that farm was heaven. It was two heavens when I got acquainted with Melvina Drake.

"Melvina Drake was about the fourteenth child of a farmer living about two miles nearer town than my uncle. Her father, Solomon Drake, was the poorest man in the county. He was poorer than watered buttermilk, but the nicest, mildest mannered old man you ever saw. His wife was a skinny, sallow, God forsaken looking, overworked woman, with no pleasure in store for her but death. Both were hardworking and honest, but they had some kind of a hoodoo on them. They were old residenters in that part of the country, and their ancestors had been there before them, but as far back as the memory of man could extend the Drakes had always been poor—as my uncle said, 'pore as shucks.' About all the Drakes seemed fitted for was increasing the population and getting hold of horses that couldn't draw anything but flies.

"As I was saying, Melvina was about the fourteenth of the Drake brood, and she was a dream. I guess she was about 16 years, big and sweet and healthy. Her cheeks were as rosy and clear as a Missouri apple, and her eyes were big and blue. And she was so doggone innocent that I hope I may die if it didn't use to embarrass me like thunder.

"Consequences was, I got 'mashed' on Melvina, hard 'mashed.' I don't believe a stronger case of calf love ever developed in this whole state of Missouri. If I saw one of my cousins or any other boy talking to her, I would go to some secluded spot and cry and butt my soft noddle against a tree. At night I used to be awake and dream myself a hero. I used to imagine Melvina tearing down the road on a fiery steed, with certain death staring her in the face, and me coming up unexpectedly, stopping the horse and rescuing her, sustaining in the operation a broken leg and sundry other bruises. Then I'd imagine Melvina nursing me back to life, and finally marrying me. My head was full of such stuff.

"One day, along in June, there came out our way a wagon loaded with circus bills, pastepots and bill stickers, and they slathered the countryside with signs announcing that the great Egypto-Africano Circus and Menageries was to show in town on the Fourth of July. When I left home, my father gave me $10, and I had most of it left. I made up my mind that I would take Melvina to the circus, and directly my dreams at night took the form of a monster lion rushing at her with open mouth and me engaging the lion just as he was about to grab her, and choking him to death with one hand.

"The next time I saw Melvina—I used to see her every day; in fact, I came pretty near being with her all the time—I asked her if she'd go to the circus. I thought she'd faint. Her eyes opened wide and so did her mouth, and astonishment was engraved on every line of her countenance. She was so overcome with joy that she just sat down and cried. I sat down, too, and that was the first time I ever kissed her.

"Young man, that kiss is a sacred memory with me. I have experienced a good many sensations in my time, but the sensation of kissing a handsome, buxom southwest Missouri girl right square on the soft, sweet lips, while the tears from her heavenly eyes are running down and making pearly drops on your budding mustache, is something better than all of them put together.

"And when, like Melvina, she puts her brown, bare arms around your neck and kisses back—one of those long, clinging kisses that Ella Wheeler Wilcox writes about—words are superfluous. But I have often wondered, since I have become cultured and cynical, where Melvina learned to kiss. She was a revelation to me.

"Finally the glorious Fourth came around, and I got ready for the circus. I might explain here that I had brought a suit of store clothes and a pair of shoes from the east with me, but I had never worn the clothes on the farm and seldom wore the shoes. Everybody down in that section went barefooted, boys and men, and I did as the Romans did. This Fourth of July morning I put on a 'biled shirt,' my 'store clothes,' my shoes and socks, and I brushed and cleaned myself until I was positively uncomfortable.

"After breakfast, followed by the good natured but cutting 'joshing' of my relatives, I started down the road to meet Melvina. I had arranged with her to walk to town, figuring on the walk back in the moonlight, when we could 'hold hands' as we strolled along the road and slobber over each other. My uncle wanted us to go in the wagon with him and his family, but I was too wise.

"It was two miles to the Drake cabin and four miles to town. I was to meet Melvina at the turn in the road just below her father's house. The sun was about two hours high and cast long shadows on the ground as I trudged along to the trysting place.

"I remember I took out my barlow and cut a stout stick from a hedge along the roadside in anticipation of a possible brush with the lion. The air was heavy with the sweet smell of orchards, ripening grain and new mown hay, and I was the happiest youth in Missouri. I made up my mind I was going to spend every cent I possessed on Melvina.

"Directly I came to where she was. She had on a dress that couldn't have cost more than a quarter, but she looked like a queen in it, although. I must confess, it fit her like it was cut out with a pair of skates. A wide brimmed hat sat jauntily on her brown curls and her face looked like a ripe peach to a hungry man. I noticed she had no shoes on, but that cut no ice with me, for she had as petty a foot and ankle as anybody would want to look at.

"I had calculated on making a hit with Melvina with my store clothes, and I did. I paralyzed her. She just stood and looked at me while wave after wave of hot blushes chased up her white neck and congregated in her face. I stood simpering like a prize idiot. She began to cry and wouldn't tell me what was the matter with her, and I, wise in the ignorance of youth, didn't know that, like all women, she was proud and ashamed to be seen with me because of the splendor of my raiment. I jollied her along, told her how nice and sweet she looked, swore she would be the belle of the circus and was generally so lavish in my praise of her that she consented finally to go with me if I'd let her go home and fix up a bit. Still I didn't know what was the matter, but I let her go.

"I lay down in the shade of a tree on the grass to wait for her. The sun climbed higher, and wagons loaded with country people rattled by on the way to the circus. I had just figured out that we would miss the parade and grand free exhibition outside the big tent if Melvina didn't hurry, when she hove in view. I looked at her a second and then jumped in the air as suddenly I jarred myself. If my raiment had paralyzed Melvina, she got even all right.

"She had placed a cheap ribbon around her neck and spoiled the beauty of it, and had covered her pretty feet with a pair of shapeless, hard, heavy, cowhide shoes. Between the tops of her shoes and the bottom of her dress appeared occasional glimpses of a pair of stockings of the variety known as barber pole. They were striped red and yellow, and the stripes were wide. But she had something else on that knocked me speechless.

"Years and years had this crowning feature of Melvina's attire been in the Drake family. It was an heirloom, I guess, and the only piece of finery the family possessed. Melvina, blushing and simpering, hardly knowing whether I would sufficiently admire it or not, was wearing it regulation fashion. It was an old fashioned muff, of some heavy black fur and as big as a bass drum.

"Perspiration broke out of every pore in my body. The idea of me, togged out in 'store clothes' and looking like a dude, going to a circus on the Fourth of July with a girl carrying a muff that must have warmed an icehouse was maddening. But Melvina looked so thoroughly self satisfied that I hadn't the heart to tell her that the sweet simplicity of dress she wore when she first met me was more becoming by far than the big cowhide boots and the muff. So I made the best of it and let it go.

"I am an old man now, but the memory of the attention I created in that little country town that day is as vivid in my mind as is the fact that I just paid for the last drink. The circus wasn't in it. A number of times I was tempted to run away, miles and miles, but Melvina was having such a good time that I looked pleasant and stood it. She never took her hands out of that muff all day, only to eat and drink, and several times she asked me to hold it for her while she fixed up her hair or tied her shoe or something.

"One time, while I was holding the muff, I lost her for a few minutes in the crowd, and I endured more agony until I found her again than I did when I got shot through the leg in the war. We walked home in the moonlight all right, but we didn't 'hold hands,' partly because Melvina had her hands in the muff and partly because I was so dod blamed mad at her that I could have slapped her. They made it so hot for me when I got home to my uncle's with their remarks about Melvina's muff that I started home the next day. I don't know whatever became of Melvina Drake, but I do know that I suffered one day, for her sake, the keenest martyrdom."—St. Louis Republic.

From LaGrippe.

How Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored One of Kentucky's Business Men to Health.

NO DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sleepless, nervous, as LaGrippe.

Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Kentucky, says: "In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the last one attacking my nervous system with such severity that my life was despaired of. I was not about for more than two months, except by the use of narcotics that stupefied me, but gave me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker.

"When in this condition, I commenced using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In two days I began to improve and in one month's time I was cured much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have been in excellent health since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends."

Louisville, Jan. 22, 1895. D. W. HILTON.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

The only Sarsaparilla Admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893

Why Was It

that Ayer's Sarsaparilla, out of the great number of similar preparations manufactured throughout the world, was the only medicine of the kind admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago? And why was it that, in spite of the united efforts of the manufacturers of other preparations, the decision of the World's Fair Directors was not reversed?

BECAUSE

According to Rule 19—"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition," and, because—

Because Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, and not a secret preparation.

Because its proprietors feel nothing to conceal when questioned as to the materials from which it is compounded.

Because it is all that it is claimed to be—a Compound Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla, and in every sense worthy the indorsement of this most important committee, called together for passing upon the manufactured products of the entire world.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In addition to the resignation of Frances J. Kieckhoefer, the chief of the bureau of accounts in the state department, at the request of Secretary Olney, the secretary also requested and received the resignation of Edward Haywood, the chief bookkeeper of the bureau. These changes are the results of the discovery of alleged irregularities in the accounts of the bureau, which have been under investigation for some time.

Two Women Burned to Death.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—Mary Robuski, aged 39, and Annie Decisli, aged 35, both married, were burned to death by fire last night in their home near Winans, ten miles from this city. The women, whose husbands were away from home, were asleep in the second story of the building, a small frame residence, which caught fire from the kitchen stove, and were burned to a crisp before aid could reach them.

Escaped in Their Night Clothing.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 28.—Five dwelling houses at Sugar Notch were destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. Some of the inmates had to make their escape in their night clothing. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 28.—The forest fires in this section are still raging. Beech Creek trains are passing through volumes of smoke so dense that it is impossible to see ten feet ahead of the engine. His "Romance" Got Him in Jail.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—The harrowing story told by farmer John Sickler to the effect that he had murdered one of four robbers who attacked him on a lonely road turns out to be a fabrication of a mind clouded by liquor. Sickler's story was that the men set upon him and robbed him of $30, and were attempting to crawl out of his wagon when he seized a hatchet which was lying in the bottom of the wagon and buried it in the skull of one of the men, instantly killing him. The police department investigated the story and found it to be absolutely without foundation, whereupon Sickler confessed that he had invented it. Mayor Applegate sent him to the county jail as a "drunk" in punishment.

And then yourself, your bike and all
Will be a wad of mud."

BURGLARS' BUSY NIGHT.

Five Business Places Entered Saturday Night—Thieves Tracked Some Distance by the Police, but the Trail is Finally Lost—No Arrests.

A number of petty burglaries were committed, Saturday night and early Sunday morning, and the thieves, although tracked for some distance, made good their escape.

A young man named Cummings, who resides at 230 East Main street was awakened about 2 o'clock, Sunday morning, by a noise in Mr. Harry Hunt's grocery store next door. Looking out of the window he saw four men leaving the store. Mr. Cummings ran up town to give the alarm, and stopped at the O. and W. freight office, where Mr. Joseph King telephoned to police headquarters and officers were soon at the scene. The men were tracked our East Main street, through Horton avenue to Wisner avenue to Albert street, to Beattie avenue, where the trail was lost. The men had thrown paper, receipted bills, etc., along the route.

Mr. Hunt was notified and discovered that about $10 worth of cigars and tobacco, $1 50 in pennies in rolls, and a gold mounted briar wood pipe had been stolen.

The stores of Mr. Geo. Maier, on Beattie avenue, and J. J. Kuhlman, on East Main street, were also broken into. In the former, the thieves secured a few pennies and cigars, and in the latter place, $1 25 in pennies and a leg of lamb.

The store of Weeks Bros., on North street, was also entered during the early hours of Sunday morning. A box of cigars, two bottles of pickles, a basket and some ginger snaps are missing.

The meat market of Max Goodyear, on West Main and Union streets, was also entered and a few pennies taken from the till.

All the places were entered by prying open the doors or windows with a "jimmy."

THE RONDOUT VALLEY RAILROAD.

The Board of Trade of Kingston Asked to Raise $10,000 in Aid of the Project.

Vice President Lafe Pence, of the Port Jervis and Monticello road, appeared before Kingston's Board of Trade, Friday night, and offered to extend the road from Summitville to Kingston if Kingston would subscribe $10,000. He said exorbitant prices for right of way were asked, and that condemnation proceedings would be necessary.

The members of the Board at once subscribed a considerable amount, and a committee was appointed to solicit the remainder of the sum asked.

Good Work at the Ungraded School.

Mr. J. C. Mullison, teacher of the ungraded school, is accomplishing good results. He is interesting the pupils in their work, as is shown by better attendance and more names on the roll of honor. Last month, with twenty-nine pupils on the roll, there were forty-eight days of absences, forty-two cases of tardiness and only four names on the roll of honor. This month, with thirty-one pupils registered, the absences amount to but forty and a half days, there were only thirty-three cases of tardiness and there are nine names on the roll of honor.

Wants Its Assessment Reduced.

The Pennsylvania Coal Co. has brought an action against the city assesors of Newburgh to compel them to reduce the amount of its assessment on its docks and other property in that city. The valuation placed upon the company's property is $315,000. L. W. Y. McCroskery has been appointed referee and began taking testimony last week.

The Newest Dances.

The following is a list of the newest dances which will be taught by the Dancing Teachers' Association during the ensuing season: Trilby two-step, Agatha, Ellsworth, Golf, Lorainne, Gavotte, Standard Lanciers, Hommage, Amsterdam and Brunswick Caprice.

Prompt Payment of Insurance.

The Dutchess County Mutual Insurance Company, through its agent, E. E. Conkling, has settled and paid in full the claim of Mr. Eugene Peet. The fire occurred Monday evening, Oct. 21st, and payment was made Saturday morning.

Fell from a Scaffold and Badly Hurt.

Harvey Sears, of Little Brittain, a carpenter who was working on a building at Campbell Hall, fell from a scaffold and landed on a pile of rocks. One of his ears was severed from his head, one leg was broken and he was badly cut and bruised about the head and shoulders.

PUBLIC VOICE.

Theatrical Advertising in the Times—Two Managers Explain Why They Do Not Use That Paper.

EDITORS ARGUS—May I through your columns find opportunity to correct what has been said in one of the city papers, (the Daily Times) as to the relations of myself and company and the Casino management.

I understood the terms upon which the Casino was to be used by myself and company, and recognise Mr. Corey's right to enforce his rules and contracts. I have never claimed or said his action was "unwarrantable" or an "infringement on our rights," nor do I so consider it. Had I known of the circumstances I would not have allowed the advertisement to appear in that paper's columns. It was done by my advance agent without my knowledge or consent. The matter was stopped with my full knowledge and approbation as soon as I learned the circumstances, and if advertisements or local notices are published in the Times, they are not paid for by me or my company even if they so appear. My relations with the Casino manager have always been of the most pleasant nature, and I have no word of fault to find with him in this matter. THOS. ELLINWOOD.

Manager of Ellinwood's Players.

EDITORS DAILY UNION:—From an article appearing in the Daily Times, of Middletown, N. Y., your paper is quoted as saying that I withdrew the advertisement of the Agnes Herndon Company from the Daily Times "under protest." This is not true. After learning the facts in the case I cheerfully and willingly cancelled the contract, which was made by my agent without my knowledge or consent, and discharged him from my employ. I have nothing but words of commendation for the Casino management in this matter, and his treatment of myself and company. I trust you will give this denial the same prominence as the article in which I am misrepresented. Yours very truly, JOHN H. BONES,

Manager Agnes Herndon Co.

—The drill season will commence Tuesday, Nov. 12

THE ELLINWOOD PLAYERS.

"The Fugitive" to Be Played To-night —A $5 Bill for Some One.

The Ellinwood Company arrived in town Sunday, and is stopping at the Madison House. The company numbers fifteen people, including Miss Adelina Ruttino, the operatic soprano, and Baby Blossom. The play to-night will be "The Fugitive," with fourteen people in the cast, and judging from newspaper notices received by the company at Port Jervis the performance to-night will be excellent. A $5 bill will be given away to-night to the one holding the lucky number.

UP THE MIDLAND.

Assaulted in Sidney—Bad for Delaware River Lumbermen—From Small Beginnings—May Go to Downsville—May Build a Butter and Cheese Factory—All Sorts of Happenings at Jerusalem Hall Gone to Farming.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—An Oneonta lawyer, named Bristol, was assaulted at Sidney, last week, by a tough, and was nearly killed. The object was robbery. The would-be murderer was captured red handed and is now in Delhi jail.

—The Delaware lumbermen have given up all hopes of a freshet on which to get their lumber to market, this fall. There is now no possible chance for a freshet to come soon enough and they will be compelled to take their lumber all out of the river and pile it on the banks again at an enormous expense for labor and with great damage to the lumber. It would be a good plan to stop rafting on the Delaware altogether.

—A cow kicking over a lamp in the stable was the cause of the biggest fire Chicago ever saw. A boy playing a game of billiards was the cause of all the trouble in the Baptist Church at Norwich.

—There is some talk that the Rev. L. W. Hones, of the Roscoe Presbyterian Church, will accept a call from the Presbyterian Church at Downsville, which has been without a pastor ever since Rev. J. C. Stinson went wrong at Boston, last spring. Should the Downsville people secure Mr. Hones they can rest assured that they will have a talented and able worker in Christ's cause, and that Downsville's gain will be Roscoe's loss.

—Downsville wants a butter and cheese factory. An establishment of that kind would no doubt be a fine thing for the business men of the village and the farmers who live close by, but I question whether it pays to deliver milk twice a day from a distance of three or four miles at the price such a concern can afford to pay. Hauling milk a long distance is more expensive than most people imagine until they have tried it.

—Editor Wing, of the Southern Ulster, will have to keep an eye out or the Sherburne News man will get ahead of him, as the following will show:

On Wednesday of last week, while George McKay, of Jerusalem Hill, was engaged in thrashing his wife in the barn a colt kicked at her savagely, striking her in the abdomen and nearly killing her. In falling, she drove her teeth through her tongue, so that it became necessary to pry them apart. McKay, seeing his wife's accident, sprang to her assistance, throwing down his pitchfork, which in some way bounded back, the tine passing through his hand. Later in the day, McKay's hired man fell off a beam in the haymow and fractured his kneecap.

—Louis Sipple, the well known Rockland butter tub manufacturer, has purchased a portion of the Ferdon farm and intends turning his attention in the direction of farming. This step he is compelled to take on account of the Roscoe-Rockland Water Company taking the water away from his factory and leaving him without power the greater portion of the year.

—C. H. Bunger, the well known New York milk dealer, who is also the owner of several creameries along the O. and W., is now one of the most extensive milk producers in Sullivan county. He has a dairy of fifty cows on his farm at Strongtown, on what was formerly known as the Kilbourn farm, that he bought about three years ago. Mr. Bunger is now doing some very extensive farming there and is causing to grow two blades of grass where none grew before. The farm has doubled in value since it came into his hands.

BEAUTY IS POWER.

Perfection of Form, Feature, and Mind Render Women All-powerful.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Yet blended with those perfections must be perfect health. Women are today stronger in their character, better in their nature, truer in their love, warmer in their affections, than they ever were.

But most women do not know themselves; and often when their influence is doing the most good, break down. They drift gradually and unconsciously into that tempestuous sea of woman's diseases. Then they should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures leucorrhœa,—the great forerunner of serious womb trouble,—relieves backache, strengthens the muscles of the womb, and restores it to its normal condition, regulates menstruations, removes inflammation, ulceration, and tumors of the womb, etc.

It is a remedy of a woman for women. Millions of women owe the health they enjoy, and the influence they exert, to Mrs. Pinkham; and the success of her Vegetable Compound has never been equalled in the field of medicine for the relief and cure of all kinds of female complaints. So say the druggists.

Here is another one of thousands who speaks that others may know the truth:—

"For five years I suffered with falling of the womb, and all the dreadful aches and pains that accompany the disease. I tried several doctors and different medicines, until I lost all faith in everything. I had not tried your Compound. I watched your advertisements from day to day, and each day became more hopeful. At last I resolved to try it. I have taken seven bottles, and have gained forty pounds. My pains have all left me, and I am a well woman. I do all my own work, and can walk two miles without feeling tired. Your Compound has been worth its weight in gold to me. I cannot praise it enough." MATILDA EHNAM, Columbia, Lancaster Co., Pa.

UNIVERSALIST SERVICES.

Rev. V. E. Tomlinson's Sermon, Yesterday—Growing Interest in Universalism.

Universalist services are now held every other Sunday at 11 a. m., in Nearing Hall. Yesterday the preacher was Rev V. E. Tomlinson, who has spoken in Middletown a number of times during the past two years. His subject was "Life a School." He drew many likenesses between children's experiences in school and the larger school of life. Education, not probation, was the key of life. Here and hereafter man's training goes on until the race has come to perfection.

A growing interest is being taken in the cause of Universalism in Middletown. The next service will be held Sunday, Nov. 10th, at 11 a.m., Rev. I. C. Tomlinson, of Boston, Mass., being the preacher.

A VERY YOUNG DRUNKARD.

A Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Helplessly Drunk—Had Been in Very Bad Company.

Geo. Pratt, a young lad sixteen years of age, was found helplessly drunk, Saturday night, in a box car near the O. and W. freight office. He claimed to live in Elizabeth, N. J., and said he had come to this city with 'One Armed" Crist, a man with a police record. He was questioned closely as to his whereabouts previous to being found in the box car but his memory was very cloudy. He was allowed to go on his promise to go to his home. It is believed by the police that the gang which was with Pratt was concerned in the burglaries committed in town that night.

Small Assets and Heavy Liabilities.

The accounts of H. J. Sarles and G. A. Rice, administrators of the estate of William A. Rice, late of the town of Liberty, submitted for judicial settlement before Surrogate Smith at Monticello, last week, showed that the value of the estate was $3,321 94, while the liabilities were $35,836 47. Among the creditors were the Monticello, Ellenville and Middletown banks.
